

Health Surveillance

Fast and confidential health screening

Occupational Health Surveillance System (OHSS) provides a mechanism for conducting a risk assessment and corresponding medical evaluation for employees with exposure to animal biohazards and other workplace or laboratory exposures.

1) Hazard Assessment

Supervisor creates risk assessment for participant review

2) Health Questionnaire

Participant completes confidential health questionnaire

3) Medical Assessment

Physician reviews risk assessment and health questionnaire and sends medical assessment to participant

4) Review and Acknowledge

Participant reviews and acknowledges medical assessment

FEATURES

Secure

Protected health information restricted to medical professionals

Interactive

In-system messaging between medical professional and employee

Efficient

Same-day clearance in many situations

Notifications

Emails sent after every step